

THE SNOWY ADVENTURE of Frosty Friends

Once upon a time, in a snowy land, there were three cute animal friends

Snowy the rabbit

flurry
the bear

And frosty
the fox

One chilly morning, Snowy found a shiny blue marble buried in the snow.

Excitedly, Snowy showed it to Flurry and Frosty. They all wanted to keep it, but their hearts knew they should share.

Flurry said, "Let's take turns! Snowy can keep it first, then Frosty, and lastly, me."

Snowy and Frosty agreed, and they played happily
with the blue marble.

As they played, they saw a little bird, Tweetie, looking sad and shivering in the cold.

Frosty quickly gave the marble to Tweetie to warm its tiny feet.

Tweetie smiled and chirped happily. "Thank you for being kind! You are wonderful friends."

The three friends felt warm inside because of their kindness.

From that day on, they always shared their toys with other animals in the snowy land. And so, Snowy, Flurry, and Frosty's friendship grew stronger because of their kind hearts.

And they all lived happily ever after, making new friends and sharing the joy of kindness in the snowy land.
