

THE LITTLE HIKER'S

Once upon a time, in a beautiful place with big mountains, there was a little hiker named Timmy.

Timmy loved to explore and discover new things.

ONE SUNNY DAY

Timmy put on his tiny hiking shoes and a cute hat. He was ready for an adventure! He walked up the mountain, step by step, with his little backpack.

As he climbed higher,
Timmy saw colorful
flowers and fluttering butterflies.

He giggled with joy
and waved hello to
the friendly
creatures.

Then, Timmy noticed something shiny sparkling in the distance. "What could it be?" he wondered.

With excitement in his heart, Timmy followed the sparkling trail. And guess what he found?
A treasure of beautiful,
sparkling rocks!

Timmy was amazed
and happy. He had never seen such
pretty rocks
before.

He carefully put some in his backpack to show his mommy and daddy.

On his way back, Timmy
met a wise old owl.

The owl smiled and said,
"Exploring nature is magical, little
one. It teaches us new things every day."

Timmy nodded and thanked the owl. He knew he had discovered something special on the mountain that day.

When he reached home, Timmy showed the sparkling rocks to his mommy and daddy. They were so proud of their little hiker!

From that day on,
Timmy went on
more adventures,
exploring the mountains and
learning about the wonders of nature. And with every journey, he found joy and new knowledge.

And so, the little hiker, Timmy, lived happily, always ready for big discoveries in the mountains.
